TOOD

Makeup for every body, everywhere.

Clean color that goes anywhere – face, hair or body.

TooD is so much more than your traditional makeup brand -

TooD is an attitude and a way of life, a celebration of individuality and self-expression.

As the first clean colorful makeup product line, TooD understands that makeup is what you make up - it's an invitation to color outside of the lines instead of to conform.

There are no rules about where TooD should go - eyebrows, armpits or collarbone - as long as you are celebrating who you are.

Now is the time for living truthfully, no more pretending.
We throw color and crystals and glitter on parts of ourselves we once tried to hide. We embrace our contradictions and our complicated selves.

Bring your attiTooD and speak your truths at full blast, unconcerned with the reaction. TooD is a commitment to emotional honesty. TooD was created without toxins or toxic thinking. Diversity isn't a goal - it's a part of our ethos to tell the stories that have been left unsaid.

This is so much more than a brand;
it's a community dedicated to individual beauty.

TooD is makeup for every body, everywhere.

My name is Shari.

Growing up, I never saw faces like mine in the media (and, let's be real - I still don't).

As a first generation Iranian - American, I spent years trying to fit into a standard of beauty that didn't serve me.

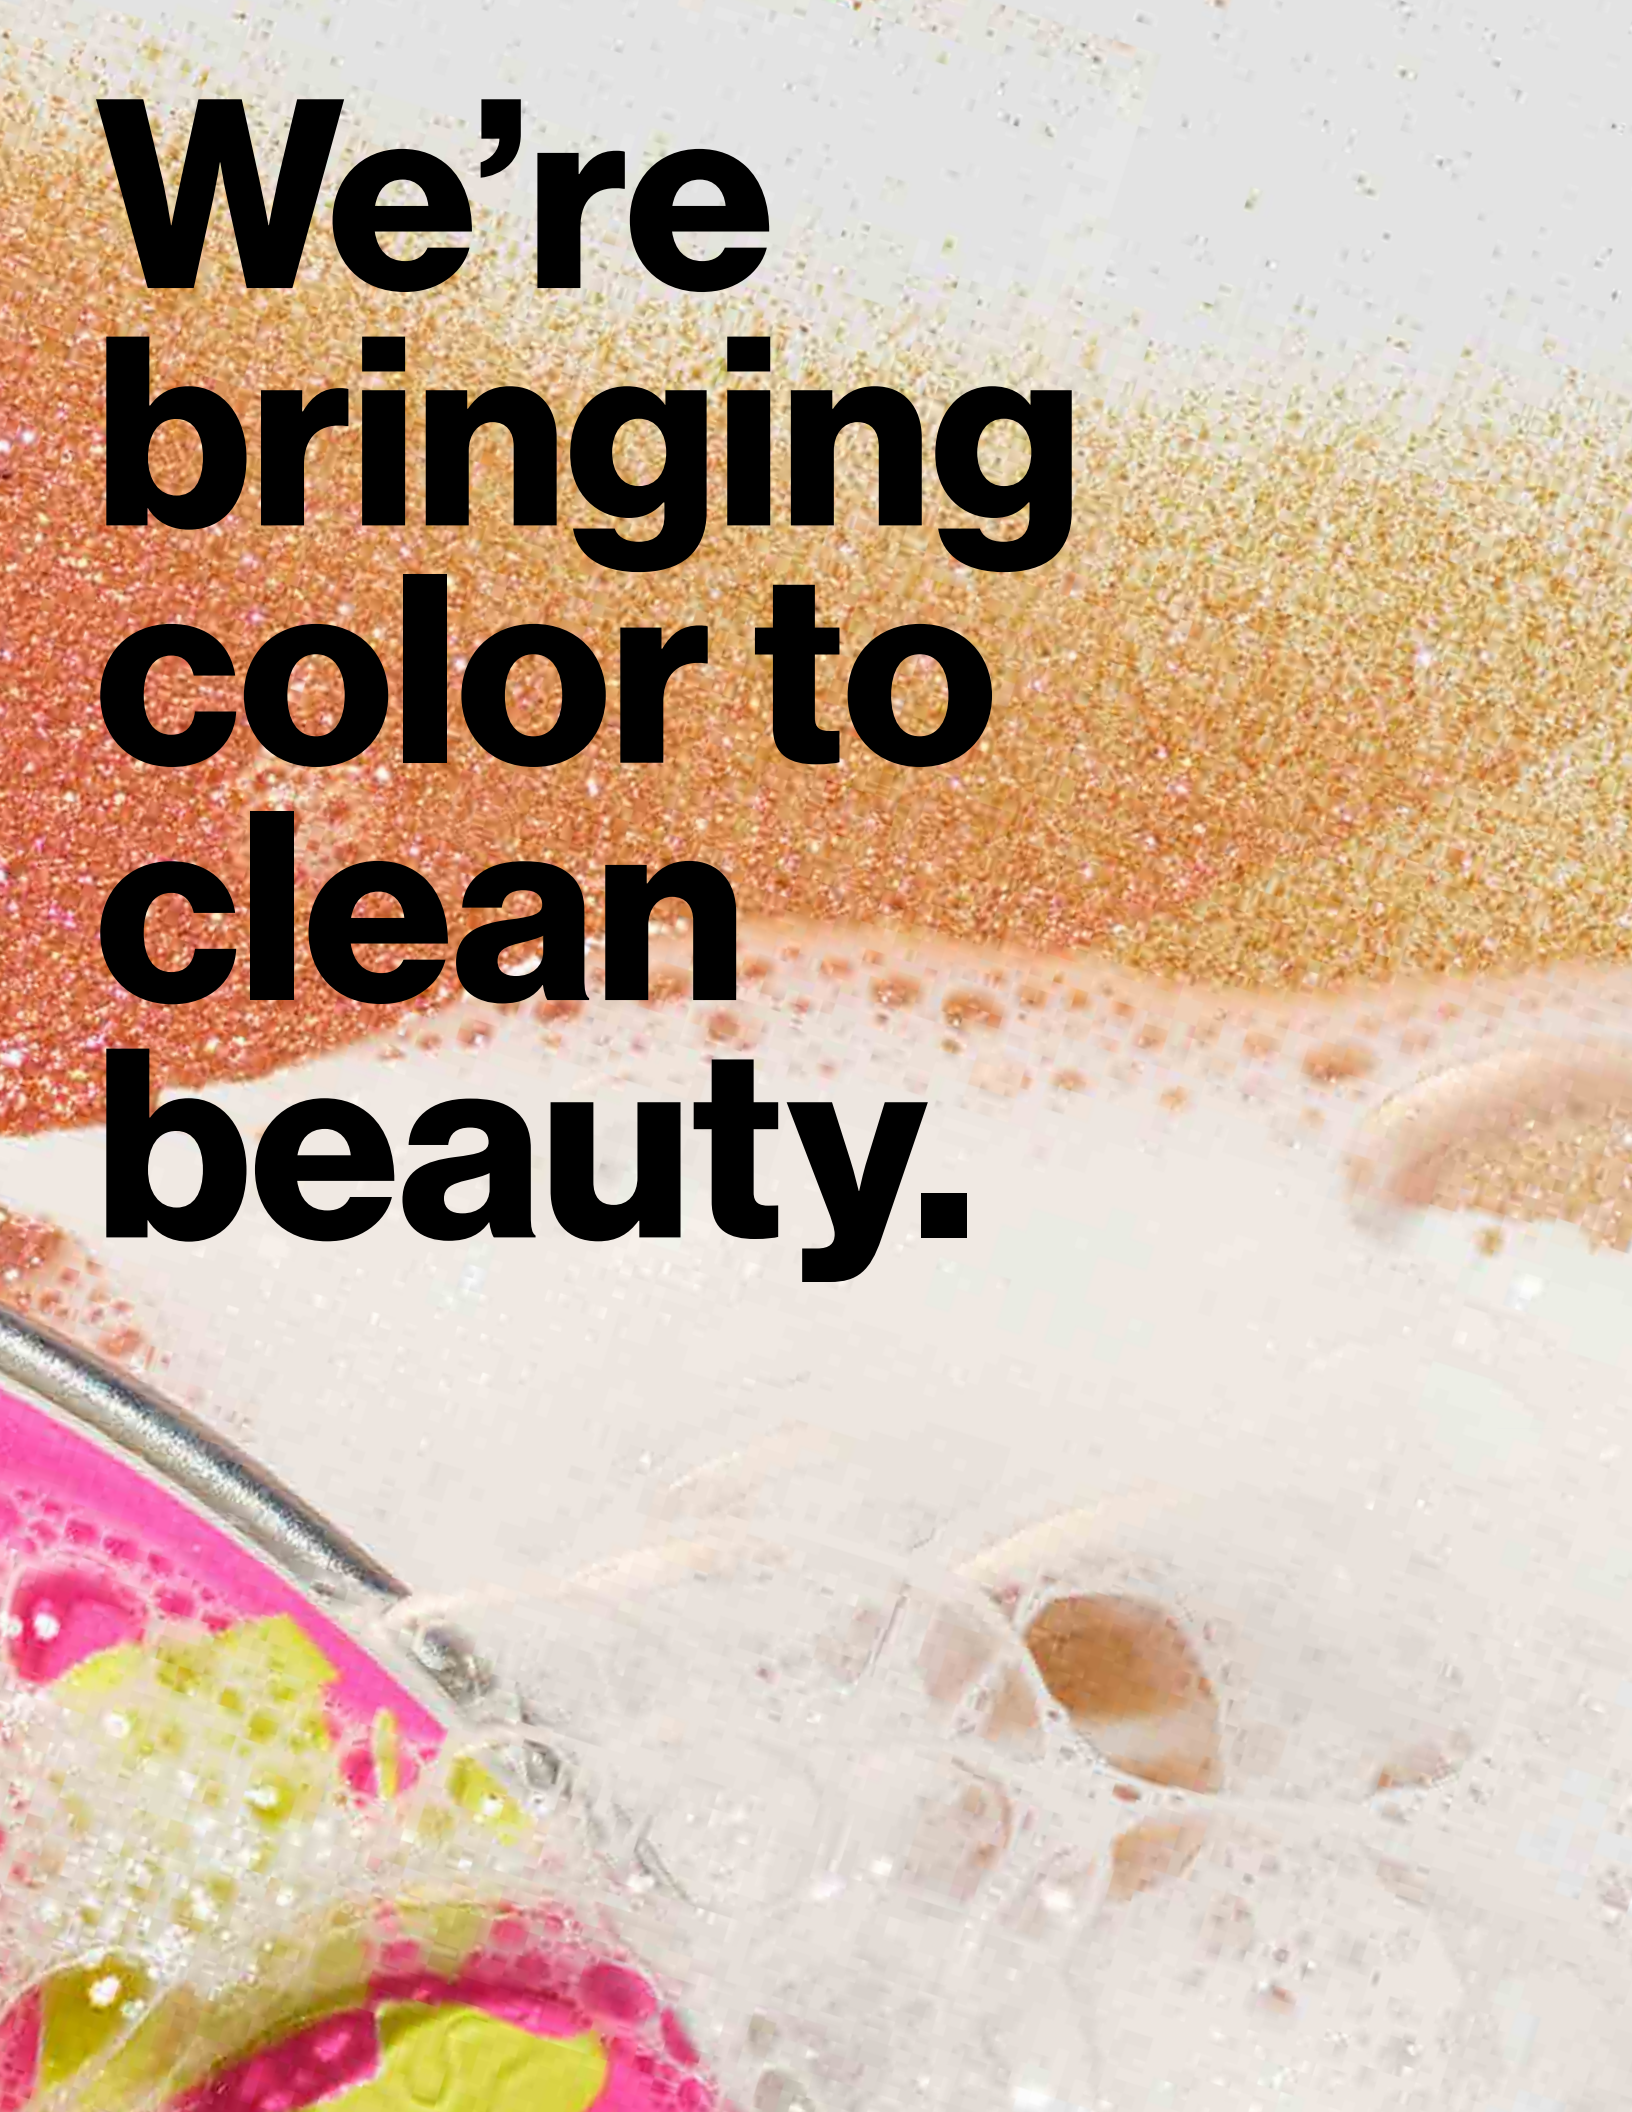

Now, as a mother to three girls, I want them to live in a world that celebrates the beauty of being - without the pressure to conceal or contour.

Clean beauty has been a first step in getting there, but we needed non-toxic products with packaging that helps the earth heal and that let us experiment with color and joy. I created products that would be safe for anyone to wear - from my own daughters to those who wish to express themselves fully.

I want TooD to be your own personal safe space.

TooD is all about new makeup formulas that completely change how we see makeup and how we see ourselves. We're going beyond eyes, lids and cheeks. We're coloring outside the lines. Our true selves follow no rules.

We're bringing color to clean beauty.

With a team of dedicated, socially-conscious scientists, TooD is introducing the first colorful makeup product line that meets the rigorous standards of clean beauty. All TooD products are non-toxic, allergen-free, cruelty-free, and gluten-free.

Our products are painstakingly designed to reduce, throughout the production process, as much waste as possible using:

- Recycled & Recyclable tins
- Soy-based inks
- Solar energy
- Laser-printed wood
- Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certified paper to help the earth's forests

TooD is made without harmful ingredients like :
Aluminum Powder • Butylated Hydroxyanisole (BHA) • Heavy Metals • Unethically-Sourced Mica • Mineral Oil • Petrolatum • Paraffin • GMOs • Parabens • Palm Oil • Sulfates • Synthetic Fragrance • Talc • Toluene •

TooD is committed to representing diversity without tokenization or exoticism. We celebrate the beauty of all ages, genders, sizes, cultures, and abilities. We see every color and shade of the rainbow.

People are vastly more than light, medium and dark. For our first campaign, we are amplifying new faces and undiscovered voices in order to reimagine a realer, freer, bolder world for us all.

This is just the beginning of what TooD will do.

We promise to:

- Celebrate the underrepresented parts of our bodies through photography and storytelling
- Create a community where people can explore creativity and movement and mental well-being
- Host conversations and dialogues around key issues
- Remain accessible and affordable to consumers
- Commit to evolving the brand as new clean beauty ingredients and technology emerges

TooD is building an impact collective that will drive meaningful change and center untold stories - transforming our shared understanding of our minds and bodies.

Curated “diversity”
is over.
